Welcome Linda Grenis

Daughter, Mother, Therapist, Volunteer and

Our New Director of Community Outreach

Linda Grenis knows just what it's like to stand in the shoes of the family members who are caring for an aging loved one. She's been there herself. When her mother's health was failing, she was managing a home, children, multiple community leadership positions and all the responsibilities that go with them . . . and her mother's care.

Linda discovered Greenwood House and it was the solution her family was seeking. The Robert and Natalie Marcus Home for the Jewish Aged offered her mom the care and loving surroundings that she needed, as well as peace of mind and support for her family. Linda became such an advocate for Greenwood House, we invited her to join the Greenwood House Board in 2007.

Over the past few years, we've gotten to know Linda and knew her vast experience and talents could help our organization. So when we decided to add the position of Director of Community Outreach, we knew Linda would be the perfect fit.

"I've always believed in giving back to the community and being part of the Greenwood House team allows me to give back in so many ways," says Linda. "Few things are more rewarding and important than helping seniors and those who love them find loving care and quality housing. I feel my personal experiences with Greenwood House enable me to speak credibly about the tradition of care, comfort and support that I will be promoting here . . . helping to put worried minds at ease."

As our Director of Community Outreach, Linda will be reaching out to physicians, hospitals, community agencies and other health care specialists to familiarize them with the programs and services offered at Greenwood House, including our nursing, rehabilitation, assisted living and non-sectarian hospice and homemaker programs.

Linda has been a Princeton resident for the past 20 years and is an active participant in the community. Since 1994, she has held numerous volunteer positions within The Jewish Center of Princeton – including Synagogue President. She has also been active at The Princeton Children's Chess Foundation and the United Jewish Federation of Princeton Mercer Bucks.

Professionally, she has been a program director and counselor for The New York Association for New Americans, Inc., a vocational counselor for the New York Hospital in Westchester and also had a private practice working with young adults.

Linda will be spreading the word about Greenwood House programs and services throughout the local community. She can be reached at:

Kosher Meals on Wheels

Greenwood House offers Labbok Kosher Meals on Wheels, a home-delivered meal program that provides affordable, nutritionally balanced kosher meals to elderly persons who are homebound, chronically ill, convalescent or disabled.

Community Hospice of Greenwood House

For many families, hospice care is the answer when they don't know where else to turn. Our hospice team provides compassionate care and support for patients, their families and loved ones.

At Community Hospice of Greenwood House, we promote dignity and focus on quality of life. "Using hospice services is not about giving up," says Kathy Menold, Director of Community Hospice. "It means quality of life and exceptional care from committed and caring professionals. We help our patients and their families spend their time together in peace and comfort."

Sometimes peace and comfort means providing the most advanced pain relief possible, sometimes it means simply holding a patient's hand . . . whatever is called for, we bring dignity, compassion and love to everyday life.

Community Hospice provides services to community members of all faiths. To discuss hospice services and how we can assist you, call 609-883-6026.

GREENWOOD HOUSE

A Tradition of Care, Comfort & Support

For decades, Greenwood House has enjoyed a strong reputation in the local Jewish community for the quality of care and lifestyles it provides. But with the increasing competition of brand new skilled nursing centers and sparkling new assisted living communities – some literally right down the street – the Greenwood House leadership team made the decision to once again share the Greenwood House story and remind the community that no other provider can meet their needs like Greenwood House.

"The Greenwood House mission hasn't changed," says Executive Director, Richard Goldstein, "we just want to tell our story in a few concise, memorable words that reflect our core values and the expectations of those who turn to us for care."

After months of planning and preparation, the new "story" is about to be unveiled in a new slogan:

A Tradition of Care, Comfort & Support.

"Our new slogan describes the values Greenwood House embraces," says Judy Collett-Miller, Greenwood House Director of Development. "It offers a powerful connection between Greenwood House and those we serve. The word tradition is a subtle reminder that we have a long and successful history."

Executive Director Goldstein adds, "We believe this new message emphasizes warmth and accessibility and will help us promote our homecare and hospice programs more effectively."

Along with the new "slogan" comes a new look. Over the next several weeks, Greenwood House will be distributing new marketing materials including brochures, folders, stationery and an exciting new, user-friendly website.

"Families have been telling us for decades that from the moment you walk through our doors, something just feels different about Greenwood House," says Executive Director Goldstein. "We believe that our new slogan and new look now matches our reputation for providing high-quality care."

GREENWOOD HOUSE HOMEMAKER SERVICES

Evelyn has lived a great life. From being a professional swimmer with New York's famous Billy Rose Aquacade at the 1939-1940 World's Fair to becoming a wife, mother, world traveler, philanthropist, community advocate, artist and grandmother, Evie – as she likes to be called – shows no signs of slowing down even though she turns 94 in September.

Evie still maintains her home on a quiet street in Mercer County. It's the house she and her husband, the former mayor, built together over 40 years ago. Evie says she's able to remain in the home she loves in large part due to Cathleen, her home health aide from Greenwood House's Homemaker Services.

Cathleen has been living with Evie for two years now, but their relationship is much deeper than caregiver and client. Cathleen and Evie are friends – good friends.

"We laugh together, play together, entertain together, cook together and just spend time enjoying each other's company," says Evie. "Most importantly, we have fun!"

Cathleen has worked for Greenwood House Homemaker Services for two years, and finds that working with Evie has been her most rewarding professional role to date. "Helping ensure Evie can stay here and enjoy her home and her life is very important to me," says Cathleen. "She's like family."

To help Evie maintain her independent lifestyle, Cathleen helps with things like meals, light housekeeping, medication reminders, laundry and linen changing, shopping and errands, driving and home organization, but Evie says it's the companionship she enjoys the most.

"While I do much of the cooking these days," says Cathleen, "Evie likes to show me how to make some of her traditional favorites like Borscht and I like to introduce her to some of my native Jamaican favorites like Jerk."

"We've developed a whole new fusion style of food – Jamaican-Jewish!" adds Evie.

Evie also takes advantage of the Greenwood House medication management program. An RN visits every two weeks to check her health status, and review and reorder medications as needed. If there are any concerns, including medication side effects, the nurse will contact her physician.

"It's important to me to remain independent in my own home," said Evie, "and the Greenwood House Homemaker program allows me to do that."

Greenwood House has been offering Homemaker Services for over ten years.

All Greenwood care providers are Certified Home Health Aides. After an initial assessment, a registered nurse reviews cases monthly to ensure satisfaction, and to update health status records.

"Our services are designed to provide support and practical help according to each client's unique needs. We are committed to helping seniors remain independent and vital in their own home for as long as possible," said Debbie Hunter, Assistant Executive Director.

Homemaker services are available to community members of all faiths. For more information contact Debbie Hunter at 609-883-5391, Ext. 312 or email dhunter@greenwoodhouse.org

100th Birthday Celebration

For Abrams Resident Betty Herer

*M*ore than 50 friends and family joined Rebecca “Betty” Herer to celebrate her 100th birthday on Monday, March 8 at the Abrams Residence.

In the main living room decorated with balloons, streamers and flowers, Betty’s daughter, Shirley Malamut-Judd, spoke about her mother’s life. “My mother set an example by how she lived, always telling us ‘with reward comes responsibility.’ She didn’t believe in complaining about what had to be done and throughout her life she told us to look forward not backward, today is a new day. She is the joy of our lives.”

Residents, staff, family, and friends joined the new centenarian for cake and desserts. While receiving well wishes from her many friends, Betty told the crowd “I’ve lived this long because I’m here at the Abrams Residence. I love it here, it’s wonderful.”

Still independent at 100, Betty insists on styling her own hair and keeps busy with exercise classes, yoga, bingo and word games. After the crowd sang happy birthday, one of Betty’s neighbors complimented her on her longevity, telling her, “You don’t look a day over 96!”
